The Ossipee Public Library will close due to a pandemic in the event of a mandate order or recommendation for closure issued by public health or government officials on the local, county, or state level. The Board of Trustees will continue to pay existing wages and benefits including health coverage to library staff while the library is closed.

Pandemic Staged Reopening Plans

This document may need to be revised and amended as new information regarding a pandemic and its impact on our town, state, and nation is released. Moving from one stage to the next will be based on local conditions, not on any calendar. At any time, it may be necessary to revert to a previous stage or change a particular service. Services listed under each stage may be phased in one at a time.

The Library Director will have authority to decide whether to move ahead to a less restrictive phase or back to a more restrictive phase of the Reopening Policy based on the following criteria:

- Most current information on the spread of pandemic.
- Most current guidelines from federal, state and local officials and CDC
- Ability to provide a safe working environment
- Availability of PPE and cleaning and disinfecting supplies
- Ability to maintain required safe distancing requirements of 6 feet

Stage 1

- The library will be closed to public.
- The Director will be the only staff member allowed in the library to check on the building, collect the mail, check and respond to phone messages.
- If the Director becomes ill, a staff member may be allowed in the building in the Director's place until it is safe for the Director to return to work.
- There will be no in-person services.

Stage 2

- Staff may return to work in the building and follow the Pandemic procedures.
- Set up the building for outside pick-up.
- Services continue to be virtual/digital.
- Accept return of materials in the book drop.
- Plan for return to earlier stages if necessary.

Stage 3

- Outside pick-up of materials begins.
- Drop-off and pick-up of documentation to be copied or faxed.
- Drop-off and pick-up of documentation for AARP tax help or AARP help with the Property Tax Relief Forms. AARP representatives will be allowed in the building to process the forms.
- Virtual/Digital Services continue.
- The Building remains closed to the public; begin set-up for social distancing or restricted access.
- Plan for return to earlier stages if necessary.

Stage 4

- Building is open to the public with restrictions such as but not limited to access by appointment only.
- Continue outside pick-up.
- Activities include use of public access computers on a limited basis, limited browsing of the collection, and limited use of the copy machine.
- Virtual/Digital Services continue.
- Plan for return to earlier stages if necessary.

Stage 5

- Fewer restrictions to building access by the public while virtual/digital services continue.
- Some in-person programming is possible.
- Plan for return to earlier stages if necessary.

Stage 6

- Continue to move to a new normal with full services restored.
- Plan for return to earlier stages if necessary.
- Library trustees under RSA 202-A:6 (management of public library property) have the authority to mandate that people entering a town building or library wear a face covering. They may also set limitations on the number of patrons allowed in the building at any one time.

Ossipee Public Library Telework Policy

Statement of Intent

This policy is intended to benefit the Ossipee Public Library through workforce recruitment and retention, enhanced agency performance, increased staff satisfaction, and reduced environmental impact. It is designed to implement Telework without undue risk or cost to the Ossipee Public Library.

An agency's decision to opt into Telework or to end Telework is at the sole discretion of Library Director. Telework is a privilege, not an employee right. Every effort will be made to provide 30 days' notice of such a change. There may be instances, however, when no notice is possible.

This policy will be periodically reviewed by the Ossipee Public Library Board of Trustees and is subject to change. The Board of Trustees will provide an updated policy on an annual basis, or sooner if changes are required.

Telework is not a substitute for dependent care, shall not reduce the use of employee leave, and does not permit non-work activities to be performed by the employee during work hours.

Additional information or assistance is available from Ossipee Public Library Board of Trustees and Library Director.

Definitions

Telework: A work flexibility arrangement where an employee is authorized to perform some or all work at an Alternate Worksite instead of the employee's Primary Worksite. This definition includes what is generally referred to as "remote work" or "telecommuting".

This definition does not include traveling between worksites, work performed while commuting, emergency or other incidental offsite work.

- Primary Worksite: An employee's usual and customary worksite. This is traditionally the Library building.
- Alternate Worksite: An approved worksite within New Hampshire where official Library business is performed. These locations may include, but are not limited to, employees' homes, satellite offices, federal buildings, or municipal offices. Alternate worksites cannot be outside of the state of New Hampshire.

Eligibility for Telework

- Employees are not eligible for Telework until completion of a work plan and schedule are created.
- Eligibility for Telework must take into consideration the employee's access to suitable dedicated workspace, equipment, functionality, and scheduling. The employee and Library Director will review the conditions of the physical workspace to determine if the remote work location is suitable.
- Telework eligibility depends on the ability to maintain confidentiality at home, the ability to securely access required data and resources, and the possession of necessary equipment for all work functions. These considerations include hardware and software capability.
- Employees in leave statuses (e.g., FMLA, military orders, leave without pay, worker's compensation, etc.), under investigation, or in disciplinary process may not be eligible or may forfeit eligibility for Telework.

Work Schedules

- The Library Director shall develop a work schedule with each employee. Teleworking employees must conform to the agreed-upon schedule. Telework schedules shall define Primary and Alternate Worksite days. All schedules shall include at least three Primary Worksite days per pay-period. Agencies may require additional Primary Worksite days.

The schedule shall also define start and end to each workday. The supervisor must agree in advance to any changes in that work schedule.

- Telework employees must be accessible (e.g., by email, phone, instant messaging, online collaboration tools, etc.) to the Library Director, patrons, and coworkers as required by the position during the agreed-upon work schedule, regardless of worksite location.
- If an employee knows that a situation will preclude working at the Alternate Worksite, the employee must report to the Library Director for approval of appropriate leave.
- The Library Director has the authority to require the telework employee to attend certain meetings in-person, regardless of the approved telework schedule.

Alternate Workspace, Equipment and Supplies

- Employees shall designate a specific workspace at the employee's Alternate Worksite and will conduct work from that location. The Telework employee shall maintain a clean, safe workspace that is appropriate for work and free of obstructions, trip and fall hazards, and distractions and has optimal lighting conditions and ergonomics.
- The Alternate Worksite should provide the employee the ability to perform the duties and responsibilities at a proficiency level equal to or greater than when performed at the Primary Worksite.
- Employees must ensure that all Ossipee Public Library issued equipment is maintained in a safe and secure manner and immediately returned upon request, termination of the Telework arrangement, and/or termination of employment.
- Work-related office supplies may be provided to Telework employees and obtained at the Primary Worksite. Telework employees will not be reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for supplies.

Expenses and Compensable Time

- No expenses incurred while performing Telework assignments are eligible for reimbursement without prior appointing authority or designee approval. Employees are responsible for the cost of maintenance, repair, and operation of personal equipment not provided by the Ossipee Public Library.

- The commute to the Primary or Alternate Worksite is not considered work time or eligible for mileage reimbursement.

Liability

- If an injury occurs at the Alternate Worksite during the agreed-upon work hours, the employee must immediately report the injury to the supervisor. The supervisor and the relevant agency must follow the State's protocol regarding the reporting of injuries for employees, regardless of worksite location. The Alternate Worksite is subject to inspection by the State or agent of the State's Worker's Compensation insurance company or third-party administrator.
- The Workers' Compensation coverage provided for Telework employees is the same as the coverage for non-Telework employees. The State assumes no liability for any loss or damage to persons or property at employees' Alternate Worksites.
- Individual tax implications, automobile and/or homeowner's insurance claims, and incidental residential utility costs are the responsibility of the employee.

Emergencies

- Although a variety of circumstances may affect individual situations, the principles governing leave and the closing of municipal offices remain unchanged. The ability to conduct work (and the nature of any impediments), whether at the Primary or Alternate Worksite, determines when an employee may be excused from work duty.
- When an emergency affects the Alternate Worksite (e.g. power outage), the employee must report to the Primary Worksite or request supervisor approval of appropriate leave.

Responsibilities

- Director will notify the Board of Trustees if they are participating in Telework.
- Employees may request permission to Telework. Agencies will document the approval or denial of a Telework request. This decision is final.
- Supervisors must comply with standard Performance Management requirements including setting job expectations and completing performance evaluations. Supervisors shall consider intended work outcomes, employee outputs, and appropriate benchmarks for each work function regardless of location. Job expectations must be signed off by the appointing authority. If Telework negatively impacts performance, an employee's Telework plan may be suspended or terminated.
- The Telework employee is covered by and must adhere to all policies, rules, and regulations of the Ossipee Public Library. Any specific Telework practices and/or restrictions that go beyond this policy must be adhered to and included employee's job expectations.

- Telework employees are subject to the same performance standards and evaluations as non-Telework employees. Failure to adhere to these standards may result in discipline and/or revocation of the teleworking privilege. Telework participation must be added to employees' annual performance evaluation.
- Employee compensation and benefits (including leave and holidays) are not affected by Telework arrangements. Telework employees must follow established library protocol related to the approval of leave time. Employees who are unable to work any portion of a Telework day shall use accrued paid time off for the hours not worked, subject to Library Director approval.

Reconsideration of Library Materials

The Ossipee Public Library Board of Trustees believes that censorship is a purely individual matter and declares that while anyone is free to reject material of which one does not approve, one cannot exercise this right of censorship to restrict the freedom of others. No Library material shall be removed from the Library while under a formal reconsideration.

Patrons who wish to request the withdrawal or reclassification of materials currently owned by the Library are encouraged to discuss their concerns with the Library Director. If the patron is not satisfied with the response of the Library Director to their request, the Library Director or Library Staff will give the patron a Reconsideration of Library Materials Form. Those who wish to submit a Reconsideration Form must be an Ossipee resident.

The Ossipee Board of Trustees fully supports the following Freedom to Read Statement:

The freedom to read is ¹²essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

- Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.
- These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.
- Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.
- Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious

¹ Adopted June 25, 1953, by the ALA Council and the AAP Freedom to Read Committee; amended January 28, 1972; January 16, 1991; July 12, 2000; June 30, 2004.

² This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

- We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.
- The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.
- We therefore affirm these propositions:
 - It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.
- Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.
 - Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.
- Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.
 - It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

- No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.
- There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.
- To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.
- It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.
- The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.
- It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.
- It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.
- It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

- The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.
- We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

Harassment and Discrimination Policy

(Adopted by the Library Board of Trustees on September 10, 2018 as the Ossipee Public Library's Personnel Policy against Harassment and Discrimination. Below is an excerpt from the Town of Ossipee Employee Handbook)

Policy against Harassment and Discrimination

The Town of Ossipee intends to provide a work environment that is pleasant, healthful, comfortable, and free from intimidation, hostility, or other offenses, which might interfere with work performance. Harassment or discrimination of any sort - verbal, physical, visual - will not be tolerated. Therefore, it is the Town of Ossipee's objective to prohibit and prevent unlawful harassment and discrimination in the workplace, including retaliation, to encourage prompt reporting of such prohibited conduct, and to promptly investigate and resolve any alleged harassment or discrimination. In an effort to achieve this objective, the Town of Ossipee has adopted this policy against harassment and discrimination, which all employees are expected to know and follow.

Harassment and Discrimination Prohibited

The Town of Ossipee will not tolerate the harassment of or inappropriate, disrespectful, or demeaning behavior toward any applicant, employee, or third party on the basis of age, sex, race, religious creed, color, national origin, marital status, familial status, sexual orientation, veteran status, genetic information, mental or physical disability, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Sexual harassment is a form of prohibited harassment and is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal, physical and non-physical conduct of a sexual nature.

Sexual harassment may not always be direct, but may at times be indirect and even unintentional. While it is not possible to list all those circumstances that may constitute sexual harassment, the following are some examples of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment:

- Unwelcome hugging, touching, kissing and/or unwelcome sexual advances, whether they involve physical touching or not;
- Sexual epithets, jokes, written or verbal references to sexual conduct; comments about an individual's body; comments about an individual's sexual activity, deficiencies, or prowess; suggestive or lewd remarks;
- Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, cartoons;
- Unwelcome leering, whistling, brushing against the body, sexual gestures, suggestive or insulting comments;
- Inquiries into one's sexual experiences; and
- Discussion of one's own sexual activities.

This policy prohibits all of the aforementioned activities whether engaged in by an employee, elected official, supervisor, agent of the Town of Ossipee, co-worker, or non-employee who is on the Town's premises or who comes in contact with Town employees in the performance of their duties off-site.

Responsibility for Remediating Harassment

All Town of Ossipee employees, and particularly supervisors, have a responsibility for keeping our work environment free of harassment and discrimination. Any employee who becomes aware of an incident of harassment or discrimination, whether by witnessing the incident or being told of it, must report it to his or her immediate supervisor, or any supervisor or elected official with whom the employee feels comfortable. When Town officials become aware that harassment might exist, they are obligated by law to take prompt and appropriate action, whether or not the victim wants the Town to do so.

Reporting of Harassment

Experience has shown that a clear statement to the person engaging in the harassment or discrimination is often all that is necessary to stop the conduct. An employee who believes the employee has been subjected to discrimination or harassment of any type by a customer, vendor, coworker, supervisor or manager is encouraged to let the person engaging in the conduct know how the employee feels, but the employee is not required to do so. However, the employee must immediately report the harassment or discrimination to the employee's supervisor, or any supervisor or elected official with whom the employee feels comfortable. The Town of Ossipee will promptly investigate the matter and take appropriate action depending upon the nature and severity of any proven incident. The Town of Ossipee will discipline any employee who violates this policy, and such discipline may include termination from employment. If it is determined that the complaining employee falsely, knowingly and maliciously accused another of discrimination or sexual harassment, the complaining employee may be subject to appropriate discipline, up to and including termination of employment. The Town of Ossipee will conduct all investigations with due regard for the privacy of all persons, while also being consistent with the need to conduct a fair, complete and responsive investigation. The Town of Ossipee cannot take action to stop the unwelcome behavior if it does not know about it. No adverse employment action will be taken for any employee making a good faith report of alleged harassment.

Retaliation

Retaliation against an employee who complains about sexual or other unlawful harassment and/or discrimination is a violation of the Town of Ossipee's policy and state and federal law. Retaliation means any form of adverse action against an employee by a manager or co-employee because the employee made a report of alleged sexual harassment or discrimination; testified against or participated in any manner in an investigation of a report of sexual harassment; or opposed any practice prohibited by this Policy or made unlawful by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and New Hampshire laws against discrimination and harassment. Retaliation is a form of unlawful harassment and will be handled in the same manner as other forms of harassment and discrimination.

The Internet offers access to many valuable local, national, and international sources of information. The Internet is a powerful tool for finding information, but other library resources may be more appropriate for locating some information in a timely manner. Additionally, some Internet sites, particularly databases, are unavailable because of limited access. However, as with printed publications, not all sites on the Internet provide accurate, complete, or current information. A good information consumer evaluates the validity of information found.

The Internet is a global entity with a highly diverse user population and information content; library patrons use it at their own risk. The library assumes no responsibility for information available through the Internet, which patrons may find to be inaccurate, offensive, and/or illegal.

The library upholds and affirms the right of each individual to have access to constitutionally protected material.

The Library affirms the right and responsibility of parents to grant, and monitor their children's use of library materials and resources. Supervision or restriction of a minor's access to the Internet is the responsibility of the parent or legal guardian.

The Library does not have the right or the responsibility to act in loco parentis. Those parents who believe their children cannot responsibly use the library's Internet access workstations or wireless networks should monitor their children's Internet use.

Computer users are warned that the library's public access computers and wireless networks are not secured. The library cannot assure the confidentiality of credit card or other personal information transmitted through library computers. The Library affirms the right and responsibility of parents to inform, teach, and instruct their children not to disclose personal information to strangers in any form of electronic communication.

Computer users may not download software onto library computers. Manipulation of library operation systems, setups, files, or configuration of the software or hardware is forbidden.

Computer users may not use any library computer for any illegal or criminal purpose including but not limited to harassment, stalking, pornography, or scams. Computer users may not display materials that by community standards are obscene.

Copyright

U.S. copyright law (Title 17, U.S. Code) prohibits the unauthorized reproduction or distribution of copyrighted materials, except as permitted by the principles of "fair use". Computer users may not copy or distribute electronic materials (including text, images, programs, data or files) without the explicit permission of the copyright holder. Any responsibility for and consequences of copyright infringement lies with the computer user; the library expressly disclaims any liability or responsibility resulting from such use.

- The computer/device owner is responsible for setting up his/her own equipment to access the Library's wireless network.
