Native American Stories and Games

at the Ossipee Public Library
Friday, September 26th
3:30pm

What might a day have been like for a Native American youngster? Certainly no TV, video games or baseball. Not even coloring books! So join us to find out what activities might have filled some of their 'free' time.

We will spend our afternoon sampling a bit of their world— including stories, music, games, even some animals they certainly knew. Fun for ages 6-11 and their caregivers. Siblings welcome!

Facilitator- Barbara Bald has been a science educator for 30+ years. She has a passionate love of the natural world and enjoys sharing adventures of animal tracking, nature's art, poetry and Native studies with adults and children of all ages in both NH and Maine.
